

Centex Adds New Community in East San Antonio

Centex is expanding its offering of affordable homes in San Antonio with Willow Point, a new community of single- and two-story home designs, each with a variety of impressive amenities and easy to manage monthly payments.

“As the San Antonio housing market continues to expand, we are excited to announce Willow Point as it brings several new floor plans to the area,” said Shawn Seaberg, division president of Centex Homes in San Antonio. “Homeowners will find not only homes featuring spacious, open floor plans combined with a long list of features, but a community perfectly located to both downtown San Antonio and two local military bases - Fort Sam Houston and Randolph Air Force Base.”

Willow Point offers nine thoughtfully designed home designs across two Collections, the Springs and Trails, each with standard features including kitchen islands (per plan), private owner’s suites with a private bath and walk-in closet, and plenty of storage.

Additionally, the community includes a Fiber network that provides fast, reliable, multi-user Internet needed in homes today and in the future. Prices start at $192,490.

Springs Collection

The Springs Collection offers four floor plans, the Cashion, Durant, Hastings and McAlester, and features 2-4 bedrooms, 2- 3 bathrooms and one-car garages. Ranging in size from 1,057 – 2,038 sq. ft., the Springs Collection includes both single- and multi-story homes with two-car driveways and flowing, open-concept living.
