Army veteran Spc. Branden Cason planned to make the military his career. When that path unexpectedly ended, he found himself facing a new question: where to go next and what to call home.

Now, the Cason family is one step closer to having that home.

PulteGroup's Dallas Division recently surprised Branden and his family with the news that they will receive a mortgage-free home through Built to Honor in partnership with Operation Homefront. The home will be built in Pulte Homes' Anna Town Square community in Anna, Texas.

“To go through it all and know that there are people that still take the time to put something like this together is pretty amazing,” Branden shared after receiving the news.

In the months ahead, the Dallas team will help bring the Cason family’s new home to life, giving them a place to put down roots and always call home.

About Built to Honor®

For the last decade, PulteGroup’s Built to Honor® program has recognized and thanked returning military personnel who have been injured during their term of service by providing mortgage-free homes to veterans and their families. Launched in 2013, the program has built and donated over 80 homes, gifting more than $30 million in value, across the country. Built to Honor works in partnership with nonprofit organizations to identify veteran candidates. For more information about Built to Honor, go to builttohonor.org.
