

PulteGroup Named to 2025 Best Workplaces for Women List by Fortune Media and Great Place To Work

PulteGroup, Inc. (NYSE: PHM), America's third-largest homebuilding company, is proud to be named to the 2025 Fortune Best Workplaces for Women™ List by Fortune Media and Great Place To Work. This is PulteGroup's sixth consecutive year being named to this prestigious list, this year coming in at #26.

The Best Workplaces for Women list is highly competitive. Survey responses reflect a comprehensive picture of the workplace experience. Honorees were selected based on their ability to offer positive outcomes for women regardless of job role, race, sexual orientation, work status, or other demographic identifier.

"We're proud to be recognized on the Fortune Best Workplaces for Women list for the sixth year in a row," said Kevin Henry, EVP and Chief People Officer at PulteGroup. "This honor underscores our deep commitment to fostering a workplace where women are supported, valued, and empowered to grow both personally and professionally. From paid parental leave and flexible work options to caregiver support, women's leadership programs, and mentorship opportunities, we've built a culture that champions equity and enables our team members to thrive. This recognition speaks to the inclusive environment our employees help shape every day.”

Great Place To Work measured the experience of women at participating companies and compared those results to their peers within the organization. The best companies create great work experiences for all women, from the frontline to the C-Suite.

“Congratulations to the Fortune Best Workplaces for Women,” says Michael C. Bush, CEO of Great Place To Work. “These companies show that when women thrive in the workplace, everybody else does too. That’s what it means to be a For All company, where the expectation is that every employee can have a great experience and reach their full potential.”
