Pulte Homes has celebrated the grand opening of Ironwood Flats at Desert Color, marking the homebuilder's newest and first community in the St. George market.

Located within the Desert Color master-planned community, Ironwood Flats will feature 99 single-family homes designed for a range of lifestyles. Home designs offer two to four bedrooms, outdoor living spaces and options including oversized and RV garages.

"We're excited to officially welcome homebuyers to Ironwood Flats and introduce Pulte Homes to this incredible St. George community," said Danny Welsh, vice president of sales for PulteGroup's Las Vegas division, which oversees the Utah community. "Desert Color offers such a unique lifestyle, and we've designed these homes to complement it, giving buyers thoughtful, flexible spaces along with access to the outdoor recreation and amenities that make this area so special."

Residents of Ironwood Flats will enjoy access to the broader Desert Color lifestyle, including community amenities, a clubhouse and walking and biking trails.

The community celebrated its grand opening on Sept. 19, giving prospective homebuyers an opportunity to learn more about the new homes and experience the Desert Color community.
